AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION'S "FREEDOM, AMERICAN IDEAS AND THE 21ST CENTURY: A NATIONAL CONVERSATION"

Monday, January 28, 2002
School Without Walls Senior High School
2130 G Street, NW
Washington, DC

PURPOSE

To participate in the American Bar Association's "Freedom, American Ideas and the 21st Century: A National Conversation" kick-off event. This nationwide initiative seeks to engage young students in discussions of the shared values that shape our identity, our civic traditions, and those precepts which must be respected by all people who seek freedom.

Mrs. Bush will be joining Justice Kennedy and the president of the American Bar Association, Robert Hirshon for this event.

PRESS PLAN

Event Press Plan

Open Press – Press for the event is being coordinated through Ashleigh Adams at (202) 456-6334 and Gail Alexander at the American Bar Association (ABA) -- 202.662.1095 on site.

Justice Kennedy will announce that there is going to be a break at the conclusion of the first topic. At this time, the students will have an opportunity to take a group photo with Mrs. Bush and this will give the press an opportunity to leave the event if they wish.

REMARKS

Length

1-2 minutes (Welcome remarks)

The discussion with Justice Kennedy will last for 15 minutes. If she wishes, Mrs. Bush will have the opportunity to answer questions and/or interject her thoughts and feelings.

Topic

Welcoming -- September 11 has shaken many Americans across the country, especially the children. If nothing else, the results of September 11 have reinforced the values and beauty of our country. The American Bar Association's "Freedom, American Ideas and the 21st Century: A National Conversation" initiative is important because it gives young people in our country a real opportunity to have an open dialogue with lawyers and judges. This is important because our children across America will learn to understand the value of our democracy and the importance of freedom.
