Senator Trent Lott
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senators Daschle and Lott:

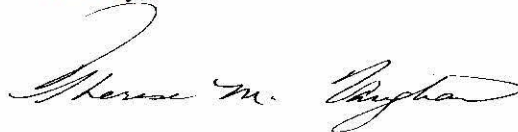

We are writing on behalf of the chief regulators of the nation's insurance industry to urge final action on terrorism insurance legislation before the Congress adjourns this year.

The terrorist attacks on our country have created enormous uncertainty in our nation's commercial property and casualty (P&C) insurance markets. We continue to believe the federal government can and should play a critical, limited role in helping this marketplace adjust to these new market realities. We are aware of the efforts the Senate and the House of Representatives are putting forward to advance this legislation. However, further delay will have a negative impact on insurers and insurance consumers who in this instance are predominantly the nation's business community.

Absent federal assistance, many businesses will be without coverage for future losses related to acts of terrorism. In the event insurance is still available, the costs may be unaffordable for many. Anticipating this possibility, many insurers have asked state regulators to grant terrorism exclusions against future losses. Some carriers are indicating that beginning January 1st they will not renew workers' compensation coverage, a business necessity if an employer is to retain employees. These steps will leave consumers without protection. State insurance regulators must act on these requests in the coming days, and we will be hard-pressed to deny many of these specific requests in the absence of a federal "backstop." Otherwise, we would be exposing the industry to potentially unmanageable financial risks that would have consequences industry-wide and among all insurance consumers.

For these reasons, we urge action on terrorism insurance legislation this year.

Sincerely,

Terri Vaughan
Insurance Commissioner, State of Iowa
President, NAIC
