Sorry to bother you two:

The DC government is considering a permit request, filed by some shady people, to open a strip club on the 1700 block of I street - about a block from the new executive office building. I am told they have hired some connected lobbyists to get this through. Businesses in that neck of the woods, including the owners of an establishment [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] are opposing it. These legitimate businesses were hoping someone from the executive office of the WH might be willing to write the DC office in charge of the matter expressing concern over the matter. Who would be the best person for me to talk to about this? Needless to say, it would be terrible if the applicants succeeded in getting this permit granted for such an establishment, so close to the WH.
Take Care.
