As for the White House Easter Egg Role on Easter Monday....I need to get some idea of the numbers of you who are interested in attending.....Adults are only allowed on the White House Grounds if they are escorting children....So for those of you Adults who have multiple kids you might need to share. Adults without kids and who want to go....you'll need to borrow a kid for the day! Finally, for those of you who have sent in your entry fees already, THANKS. Those who have not, don't forget entry deadline is Friday, April 4th. All for now!
