As some of you may have heard, I will be leaving Universal's DC office today. The President has nominated me to be Assistant Secretary for Policy and Planning at the Border and Transportation Security Directorate, Department of Homeland Security, and I have decided to join the department in an advisory capacity as a full-time senior advisor beginning on April 28 while my nomination is pending in the U.S. Senate. Since leaving Capitol Hill last year, I've enjoyed my time working for Vivendi Universal Entertainment, Universal Music Group, and the other Vivendi Universal business units, but I am really excited about joining you on the Bush team as the new Homeland Security Department takes shape.

Below and attached is my contact information - please do not hesitate to use it.
