At the time, there were contaminants in the camp's drinking water, which have since been cleaned up. Out of the 12,600 children born on the base during the time period, the research found 103 children with childhood cancers and birth defects. The survey alone does not prove a link between the camp's drinking water and the cases of childhood health problems. However, it does provide enough information to proceed with planning a study, which ATSDR will do.

DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY

- SAFETY Act.

DHS Science and Technology staff released the Support Anti-terrorism by Fostering Effective Technologies Act of 2002 (SAFETY Act) press release in conjunction with the Federal Register's notification for public comment. As of June 30, FHA has issued $5.4 billion in insurance commitments for 913 apartments or health care facilities comprising more than 126,000 apartment units or beds. Based on volume so far this year, it appears that HUD will break Fiscal Year 2002's record of $7.2 billion in insurance commitments. Eligible program participants may establish an ACA within a designated revitalization area and commit by contract to purchase all single-family homes in HUD's inventory available for sale in that area.
