we have WHCA, Advance, and Communications working to set it up so that we get the best quality on the receiving end. Because Secretary Card is part of the call we are making sure it is well-executed. Attached is the draft memo we are sending to Staff Sec, but know you will get a final copy later today.

Sunday, March 21, 2004

10:25 a.m. – 10:35 a.m.

Residence

The White House

I. PURPOSE

To deliver remarks to the politicians and guests assembled at the South Boston Saint Patrick's Day breakfast.

II. BACKGROUND

This year's annual South Boston Saint Patrick's Day breakfast will be hosted by State Senator Jack Hart (D). This is Senator Hart's third year to host the breakfast. A Massachusetts political tradition, previously this breakfast has been hosted by Congressman Steve Lynch (D, MA-09) (when he held this state senate seat) and William Bulger, former State Senate president and former president of the University of Massachusetts. The breakfast is widely attended by the political establishment in Boston and offers speakers an opportunity to roast their fellow elected officials.

Last year, in the midst of the revelation that Senator John Kerry (D-MA) was not Irish (as he had implied for years), but is actually half-Jewish, the Senator made a surprise appearance to poke fun of himself. Before the event, Senator Kerry had said he would not be able to attend because [REDACTED] b(6) and had a busy schedule as a presidential candidate.
