Leadership . . .

Remaining calm and focused in the face of uncertain and difficult circumstances . . .

Dealing with stress in positive and healthy ways . . .

Motivating peers and subordinates by setting the example . . .

Knowing when to push and when not to . . .

See these traits demonstrated in this "action shot" of Todd at about 3:30 am, on 3 November 2004 while waiting for the movement to the Reagan Building.

It has been great working and traveling with you the past eight months and I look forward to more of the same. v/r
